In the Name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful

Your Royal Highness Prince Sultan Bin Abd Al Aziz,
Second Deputy Prime Minister, Minister of Defence and Aviation,
Your Royal Highnesses,
Your Excellences,
Distinguished Guests,

I stand here today, overwhelmed by the memory of two great men whom I can never pay their due, and by the grace of a man who delegated me to receive the Prize awarded to him by KFIP for his Service to Islam; a man, I am related to, who dedicated his life to his Religion, his King and his People; a lover of benevolence and blessed, with Allah's help, with the means and tools to effectively help the needy.

Prince Sultan Charity Organization is one of his projects, established to offer free social, medical and humanitarian help for the elderly and the disabled. I am delighted with honour of receiving the KFIP Prize on behalf of Prince Sultan's Charity Organization. Awarding the Prize to this charity organization is a thoughtful gesture stressing the Islamic value that Knowledge, work, and piety are among the pillars of Islam.

Thanks are due to the General Secretariat of KFIP, the Selection Committees and all those in charge of this grand event which marks our fast steps towards reviving the values of a deeply rooted civilization.

I thank, namely, the sons of the late King Faisal Bin Abd Al Aziz for the inception of the Prize and their continuous tribute to Knowledge and the Knowledgeable. Thanks are also due to Prince Khalid Al Faisal for his profound effort towards the success of the event.

Finally, I pay my respect to my leader and my teacher, His Royal Highness Prince Sultan.

Thank you.
